Letter from your "President"

"Link forever those who served together"

How true our motto is. I want to relate to you a story that happen to me recently that demonstrates this.

Some where around 2002 I ran into a young man at a shooting range near my home in Coleman, Michigan, his name is Tim. One day we struck up a conversation and he told me he had recently gotten out of the Marine Corps and that he was with Force Recon. He also stated that it was a big mistake to have gotten out and that he wished he could get back in and to a Force Recon Company.

After making sure he was not a wannabe, which he was in fact, with Force Recon, I told him that I knew someone that may be able to help him get back in.

MGySgt Joe Settelen was working at the Pentagon at that time. He was working with MSgt Troy Mitchell. They were task with all the Recon Marines. Joe decided who went were and when. Their mission From Commandant Jones was to "Fix Recon". I gave Joe a call and he told me to have Tim call him, which he did. He was told to contact a GySgt who just happened to be in the same Force Recon Company at the same time Tim was. So, a long story short Tim got back into the Marine Corps and back into Force Recon.

Fast forward to April 2010. I received a call from my good friend and FRA member Jim (Sam) Sandoz. Jim and I were on several missions together in Vietnam. He said he and a friend were talking outside a restaurant in Baltimore, Maryland, where Jim lives, and a guy walked passed them and saw Jims FRA hat and said he was also in Force Recon. They talked for awhile and the guy asked Jim "do you know an Allan Bierlein that served in Force?" Jim informed him that we served together and were best friends. The man's name was Tim. Yes the same Tim I met several years before.

What a small tight knit unit we have. Our ties go all the way back to the Amphibious Recon Marines to the Force Recon and MarSoc of today. We have a bond like no other.

I look forward to seeing you at the reunion.

Letter from your “EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR”

Let me start by apologizing for the tardiness of this SITREP. I neglected to wish all of you a Happy Holiday Season, and I sincerely hope that all of you did enjoy a pleasant time. Again, I apologize for this oversight.

Ever since the last reunion in San Diego, I have been traveling to many places and to many different events which are related to our Association. Late last September, I traveled to MCB, QUANTICO, to begin the preparations for our next annual reunion. At the same time, I attended the Modern Day MARINE EXPO, on board the base. This is usually where I begin to meet and speak with potential sponsors for our scholarship fund.

A few weeks later, I attended the awards ceremony at SOCOM Headquarters, where Major Jim CAPERS was inducted into the SOCOM hall of Fame. At the same time, an awards ceremony was held during which Major CAPERS and six other FORCE RECON MARINES received long overdue awards and citation for their service in Viet Nam.

The next stop on my tour was to Camp Pendleton, where I was the guest speaker at the FORCE RECON MARINE BIRTHDAY BALL. This occasion was a very rewarding experience for me personally. It was a great honor for me to attend the BALL and be among the finest MARINES within our CORPS. They treated me as one of their own and I left with a renewed feeling for our ARMED FORCES. Our FORCE RECON MARINES still maintain the highest degree of training and professionalism and are a credit to all of us who served within the RECON Community.

Doing a very quick turn around, I returned to MCB, QUANTICO on the 10th of November. It was on this day, that Colonel MEYERS and Sergeant Major KING dedicated the RECON MEMORIAL at the Museum of the Marines. They should both be commended for their work on creating the idea for the memorial and acquiring the funds to complete the monument. Unfortunately, the ceremony was attended by a very small gathering of former RECON MARINES and a uniformed detail from MARSOC HQ. I found this disappointing. I am hoping that the Association will have a rededication of the monument at our next reunion, with a much better attendance. In fact, I will work it into our already busy schedule of events at the reunion.

Just before Christmas, I ventured down to Dallas, Texas, where both Al Snaidecki and I met with lawyers who are helping us to renew the Association's By-Laws. The lawyers are working with us on a pro-bono basis and thus far have been very informative. As Chairman of the By-Laws Committee, I will present the proposed changes to our By-Laws at the next meeting of the Executive Board and the Board of Directors, which will be at the next reunion. Both Boards, after a reviewing the changes/additions to the By-Laws, will present them to the General Membership at our General Meeting, for final approval. I don't believe I have to express how import it is for the Association to update our By-Law considering how much the FRA has grown.

Late January, Steve Luebbert, Al Sniadecki and I attended the Shot Show in Las Vegas. I have to report that the FRA is a well known organization to many vendors attending the show and our group was greeted warmly. I am sure that Al Sniadecki, the Scholarship Fund Chairman will elaborate more on what we accomplished while attending the show in this SITREP.

As many of you know, last November, I requested that the HOOCH be closed down on the FRA web-site. My reason for making the request had to do with the time constraints put on me during the holiday period. November is the time when I am receiving the annual dues and depositing the funds, making personal holiday plans and also dealing with the weather here in New England. The addition of HOOCH orders arriving at the same time as the dues and holidays has really puts a serious strain on me. Even with the closure of the HOOCH, orders still arrived here and were filled. I have been considering for quite some time now, turning the entire HOOCH operation over to a vendor, or just selling the FRA items at our annual reunion, as of now, I will only be selling what I have on hand in the inventory. Members who want to place an order should contact me via the internet to see what I actually have to sell before placing an order. If anybody has a better solution to this problem, please let anyone on the BOARD know, I would really appreciate the input.

Plans for the reunion have almost been finalized and I will have them ready to be published in our next SITREP within a few months from now. We are looking at some interesting changes in our venue this time down at QUANTICO, and as I have already mentioned, I hope to schedule a rededication of the RECON monument during our reunion. At this time I would like to personally THANK Jim Doner, SGTMAJ. Dick Ashton, Joe Kowalski and many of our Active Duty Marines, for the assistance they have rendered to make this reunion yet another success. The dates for the reunion are 7 through 10 September. More information will be forth coming in the next SITREP.

Before I close this SITREP out, I want to inform all of the membership that Major Andy Christian has received the NDIA USSOCOM award this year. The award is given to individuals within each component of SOCOM. I am sure that all of us will agree that Andy has clearly earned this honor. Andy and his unit will be deploying to Afghanistan, very shortly, and it goes without saying that he and his unit will be in our thoughts and prayers.

Take care and be safe.
